Meeting God in Silence

In this time and in this space,
God calls each of us by name:
patiently, tenderly, urgently, unceasingly calling.
From our darkness and our light we come ...
to listen, to respond, and to worship.

Call to Worship

- L: People of God, look around and see the faces of those we know and love.
P: We see sisters and brothers, neighbors and friends, – a community of kindred hearts.
L: People of God, look around and see the faces of those we hardly know.
P: We see strangers, sojourners, forgotten friends, the ones who need an outstretched hand.
L: People of God, look around and see all the images of God assembled here.
P: In each of us, God's spirit shines for all to see - great treasure in earthen vessels.

Benediction

- L: Knowing us better than we know ourselves,
God would have us go into the world.
P: We will go, so we might know others
as our sisters and brothers, not as strangers.
L: Trusting us better than we trust ourselves,
Jesus calls us to go and to serve others.
P: We will go, so that we might feed those who are hungry and bring healing to those living without hope.
L: Gifting us better than we gift ourselves, the Spirit fills us with all we need to be for those around us.
All: We will go, so that we might be those clay jars broken and poured out as grace for others.
